University of Delhi commemorates
The World Disability Day

University of Delhi joins millions of persons with disabilities in celebrating the World Disability Day.On this occasion, we reaffirm our commitment to empower students with disabilities by providing accessible and inclusive quality education and to work for their all round development.

In the recent years, the University has been proactively engaged in taking a number of new initiatives towards ensuring equality and equity for our students with disabilities which amongothers include:

Providing computer access to all such students.

Ensuring inclusion of students with disabilities in all cultural and other activities of the University.

Sending representative groups of students with disabilities for international visits.

Inclusive Print Access project to make all libraries of the University print accessible by installing advance technologies.

Project to provide smart phones and smart canes to visually impaired students through the ADIP scheme of Govt. of India.

In the years to come the University hopes to further enhance such initiatives.
